

FITZGERALD CONSULTING

ADVISORS ON STRATEGY, PLANNING & IMPLEMENTATION

OUR SERVICES

▪ STRATEGY DEVELOPMENT

Our strategy development process is specifically designed to answer the question 'where are you going?' As business consultants, we facilitate, develop and document your vision for the future of your organisation and translate that into the specific steps needed to achieve it.

▪ BUSINESS PLANNING

Our proven business planning process is designed to answer the question 'how do you get there?' That answer becomes clear from identifying the detailed human, capital and time resources that will be required to achieve each of the objectives in your strategy.

▪ IMPLEMENTATION SUPPORT

Implementation is effectively your strategy in action and is always the most challenging phase. As a business consulting firm, we use our considerable experience to provide implementation support and guidance to executives charged with strategic delivery.

ABOUT US

"We help organisations to shape their future. This begins with determining a strategy with input from all key stakeholders and developing detailed plans to implement that strategy over the following three to five years. Depending on client needs, we then support the implementation process using our extensive business consulting experience to guide management in its effective delivery".

"Our approach is to clearly understand and agree what you wish to achieve and then help you to make this happen. As a business consulting firm, we believe in being completely honest in terms of what we see as achievable and the time and cost that it will take to get there. We will only undertake work where our business consulting services expertise can add real value and we always seek to deliver above expectations".

Why not start with a free introductory consultation so you can get to know us and we can better understand your requirements. We could then deliver one or more short workshops to you and your team on important aspects of the strategy process. Following that, if it makes sense for your business, we would be pleased to work with you on developing and implementing a full strategy for the future.
